DECEMBER 1979

The MARQUEE is supported in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

THE PRESIDENT'S PAGE

On this page of the last MARQUEE (Vol. 6 No. 2) is a misleading statement. I said that current AKT members are entitled to a reduced AKT conference registration fee. It is true that non-members or those with expired memberships pay ten dollars more for conference registration, but this includes a current AKT membership. This means that whether you join/renew at the beginning of the membership year, or do so at conference time, the combined cost of your membership and your conference registration is the same. Follow? Good!

This year we elect a new president-elect of AKT. The nominating committee has met and chosen a strong slate of candidates (two in number as the AKT constitution provides). The ballot is being mailed separately, and members should return their ballots by February 1. If for any reason you didn't receive your ballot, please let us know immediately. At any rate, many thanks to the members of the nominating committee: Hugh McCausland, committee chair (University/College Division), Kevin Alexander (University/College), Eglia Birmingham (University/College), Mary Doveton (Community Theatre Division - KCTC), Lois Griffing (Secondary School Division), and Nancy Kelley (Secondary School). The AKT president is an ex-officio member of the committee. These people did their work well, and the candidates for AKT President-elect are: John Holly, General Manager of Music Theatre of Wichita & past chair of AKT's Professional Division; and Piet Knetsch, Assistant Professor of Speech & Drama at Bethany College, Lindsborg, and current chair of AKT's University/College Division.

The 1980 AKT Conference Program is looking like one of the best ever. It includes—in addition to the usual excellent workshops, demonstrations, and performances—some new Kansas Theatre Awards; a children's theatre festival; a featured WSU production of Robert Patrick's Kennedy's Children, with the playwright on hand to talk about it; ATA President-elect David Gooder; and a major stage, screen and television actor (his schedule permitting). Mark your calendar for the 6th Annual AKT Conference: February 29, March 1 & 2, at the Holiday Inn Plaza in Wichita.

AKT MEMBERS! If your name is on page 5, and you haven't renewed your membership since this issue of MARQUEE went to press, please use the membership form on page 14 and do it now! Thanks for your continuing support. It helps us serve you better.

NOTICE TO AKT MEMBERS

At our Annual Conference and Business Meeting of the Association, the Board of Directors will be proposing several changes in the AKT Constitution. The first is the addition of the word "Incorporated" to our name (since we did indeed incorporate this year), and the second is the addition of an Executive Committee to the AKT structure. The new Constitution is printed below, with the changes in italics.

Once the changes in the Constitution are approved, the Board of Directors will modify the By-laws to conform in language to the Constitution.

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH

"The only way in which man's institutions may become immortal is if mortal men do not shackle their institutions to themselves. By so doing, they doom their institutions to their own mortality." (John Bitterman)

DIVISIONAL REPORTS

UNIVERSITY/COLLEGE DIVISION:

The University/College Division of AKT held its annual meeting in Lindsborg on October 6th of this year. Eighteen members attended, representing 5 of the state universities, 3 private four-year colleges, and 3 community colleges. One of the important issues discussed concerned the status of membership in AKT as a whole and in our Division in particular. The following report of our membership was distributed by your Chairman at the meeting, and is included here for everyone's information.

The University and College Division of AKT: Membership for 1979

Private Institutions: total of 9 organizational members (Bethany, Ft. Scott, Hesston, Neosho County, St. Mary of the Plains, Bethel, McPherson, Pratt, Southwestern), from a potential total of approximately 40.

Total of 10 individual memberships, from a potential membership in excess of 50.

It is readily evident from these figures that our Division is not very strongly represented in AKT as far as our membership total is concerned. I would therefore like to make a special appeal to everyone to help us improve these figures. Our AKT institutional membership fees are so reasonable, so let us strive to increase our institutional memberships from the present 13 to a new high of 20. Similarly, I would like to work toward a goal of 50 individual memberships, an increase of 15 over current figures. Please help us attain these goals. Not only do we need your money (and we do need that, too), we also need your support and talent and input.

For the past two years, the University/College Division has published a directory of faculty members at all colleges and universities in Kansas. Unfortunately, financial considerations will make it impossible to publish a new edition this year. Last year's issue cost us more than $120 to publish and distribute. Anyone wishing to receive copies of that directory can still do so by writing to me, Piet Knetsch, c/o Bethany College, Lindsborg, 67456. I will be glad to furnish you with complimentary copies of this useful directory.

One of the proposals which came out of our fall meeting concerned a very tangible way to make AKT membership "pay off." It was suggested that institutions willing to participate would agree to provide either free admission, or admission at reduced cost, to anyone holding a current AKT membership card. The provision would have to include the stipulation that the individual would need to make reservations, if necessary.

Several schools have already indicated a desire to include such a policy, and I would appreciate hearing from others who would be willing to honor this policy as well. Please drop me a note, and perhaps we can publish a list of participating institutions in a future MARQUEE.

COMMUNITY THEATRES, PLEASE NOTE: The final item concerns a proposal which was put forth in 1978, which I entitled a "Guest Artist Exchange Program." In a nutshell, the idea was to get organizations or institutions in need of guest artists (directors, actors, designers) in touch with personnel in need of such opportunities. It was my feeling that theatre graduate students would be particularly suitable and available, and that in many cases they could even arrange to get graduate credit for their work. The program need not be limited to graduate students, however, and could include faculty members or other qualified persons as well. The feeling has been expressed to me that some community theatres could especially benefit from such a program, and the same might be true of small colleges also. AKT is in a position to serve as the clearing house for this program, providing there is an interest. If you do have an interest in this program, please write to Twink Lynch at the Central Office (1334 Lakeside Dr., Topeka, 66604), or to me (c/o Bethany College, Lindsborg, 67456).

-- Piet Knetsch

SECONDARY SCHOOL DIVISION:

Kansas Secondary Schools are really coming alive in a flurry of activities this fall. The State Thespian Society is closing the decade with two of the largest district conferences in several years.

Paola High School hosted a conference on November 16-17 for approximately 15 schools. There were five major productions from area schools and two days of top-notch workshops conducted by professionals from across the state. Special guest was Suzanne Fox, founder of the Nationalist Mime Theatre.

Campus High School will be hosting a district Thespian Conference on December 7-8. There will be 4 or 5 major productions and numerous workshops by theatre professionals from around the state. Special guest will be Robert Patrick, award winning New York playwright and author of Kennedy's Children.

-- Nadine Charlsen

PROFESSIONAL DIVISION:

The Professional Division met at Vassar on September 22, 1979. Audition feedback from the 1979 Conference was discussed. Suggestions were made regarding additional auditioning theatres (e.g., Nebraska Theatre Caravan, Tiffany's Attic, Missouri Rep, etc). An unofficial survey of the 1979 auditions showed that 40% of those auditioning acquired jobs as a result of the AKT auditions.

The function and goals of the Division were discussed. The following were adopted as our primary purposes:

1. To provide full communication liaison with all theatre divisions in the state.
2. To help keep Kansas artists working in Kansas
3. To maintain and build annual auditions
4. To help raise funds for the annual budget for AKT
5. To provide workshops and/or Showcase talent for the annual AKT Conference.

A Central placement center for AKT with a central resume file maintained was requested. It was suggested that perhaps the Executive Director's office may be the logical place for maintenance of such a center (EDITOR'S NOTE: RIGHT!).

Fund raising ideas were discussed. An evening showcase presented by the Professional

Division was suggested with ticket proceeds to go to AKT. This idea was presented to the AKT Board and gratefully accepted. Planning for this Showcase is currently underway for the 1980 Conference in Wichita.

Jeff Corrick was elected Chairperson-Elect.

EXECUTIVE NOTES

On November 16, I attended a meeting set up by the Kansas Arts Commission concerning 504 (Arts and the Handicapped) regulations. It was enlightening and stimulating. I came away feeling challenged and wondering how the theatre people in Kansas are going to respond to the "mainstreaming" of the handicapped into our arts experiences.

Essentially 504 is a non-discrimination regulation, not an "affirmative action" one. That means we cannot any longer, consciously or unconsciously, keep persons with handicapping conditions from participating in our arts programming solely on the basis of their handicaps, but we do not have to completely alter our programs to provide a certain number of opportunities for such persons (for example, we do not have to offer at least one play a year that has a part in it for a person with one of the four handicapping conditions).

Every arts organizations receiving any kind of federal funds (CETA, revenue sharing, National Endowment/Kansas Arts Commission, etc), must do a self-evaluation with the help of a committee composed of persons with handicapping conditions. My feeling is that if your community has an arts council, it would be well for that arts council to establish the advisory committee of handicapped persons to be of service to all arts groups in the community, rather than each arts group setting up its own committee. There is no standard form for this self-evaluation, but it must include a look at your program's accessibility to persons with mental, physical, visual, and hearing impairments. It should note positive aspects of your program as well as negative (e.g., if your building already has ramps for the orthopedically handicapped, say so; if, like the Omaha Playhouse you already do one "signed" performance of each production, say so).

The Kansas Arts Commission itself must complete such an evaluation, and Mary Browne, KAC Coordinator for 504 has said she will make the form they develop available to others.

According to the legislation, it is supposed to be done by the end of November, 1979, and kept in your files. If you find that deadline impossible to keep, do the best you can as quickly as you can.

For those of you with facilities, had you thought of using raised lettering on the rest rooms so visually impaired people can find the proper one without having to ask? How about casting a blind person in your production of Butterflies Are Free? How about trying to establish a creative dramatics program that could be available to persons with mental/emotional handicaps? How about sponsoring a tour of the Little Theatre of the Deaf?

I was particularly moved by the remarks and mime demonstration of Bernard Bragg, who has worked with Marcel Marceau and who is, by the way, deaf. And I was very stimulated by the workshop re the visually impaired which was a tactile art exhibit (sculpture) for which we were all blindfolded and found our way around the exhibit by following a string. Michael Byington, now of Topeka, was particularly articulate about the needs of the visually handicapped.

The Association of Kansas Theatre will offer a program regarding 504 at our Convention in Wichita, March 1st. Mary Browne has agreed to come and explain the background of the legislation, which was absolutely fascinating to me and helped me to see it in a whole different light. Every theatre group receiving any kind of federal funds and all organizational members of AKT should plan to send at least one representative to that session.

-- Twink Lynch

FINAL REPORT

THE MID-AMERICA ASSEMBLYon the Future of the Performing Arts

Kansas City, Missouri
September 16, 1979

At the close of their discussions the participants in the Mid-America Assembly on the Future of the Performing Arts at the University of Missouri-Kansas City, September 13-16, 1979, reviewed as a group the following statement. The statement represents general agreement; however, no one was asked to sign it. Furthermore, it should not be assumed that every participant subscribes to every recommendation.

PREAMBLE

In the past twenty years the nation has experienced a satisfying increase in the number and quality of performing arts institutions, facilities, and audiences. The Mid-America Assembly on the Future of the Performing Arts looks upon this phenomenon as admirable because of our deep conviction that the performing arts are of central importance to the health of a democratic society in which personal expression has always been held to be of paramount importance. It is indeed the arts that provide our best means for self expression and for celebrating the privilege of our existence. The arts provide one of the few ways in which the display and understanding of emotion is legitimate and central.

RESOLUTIONS

As a result of the recent acceleration of performing arts activities, the members of this Assembly have come together heartened by these past two decades of progress but also out of a concern that this unprecedented progress in the arts does not lead to a waste of opportunity, waste of financial resources, waste of creativity, or loss of public credibility. We are particularly concerned that there is not now a public policy on the performing arts which affirms the special needs and strengths of this region as well as the other diverse sections of our country.

1. We believe the primary tenet of a national performing arts policy should be to advance the professional quality and integrity of the performing arts, but we recognize support of the performing arts for community, educational, and social goals is important to our Midwest region. We therefore believe that a high priority should be attached to community and educational programs in the performing arts.

2. We believe it is important to support the development of indigenous professional quality performing arts organizations. They should be encouraged to tour, if they wish, throughout the region in complement with fully professional nationally recognized performing arts institutions to the end that the best of both can be more regularly and widely available to the communities of the region.

3. We believe decentralization of National Endowment support for the performing arts has strengthened artistic resources in a variety of ways: Popularizing the arts, providing a geographical and equitable sharing of tax dollars, and expanding total resources through the use of public funds. We believe a federal division of activities in supporting national treasures, regional activities, and state art councils is appropriate. We therefore acknowledge the present Federal/State Partnership allocations as acceptable and urge that further Endowment efforts at decentralization be undertaken as soon as possible.

4. We believe that at the state and regional level considerable need exists for the additional development of audiences, artistic leadership, management skills and the strengthening of sponsorship capabilities, individual community resources, and the networks which connect them. However, these actions should be taken on the basis of needs as perceived at the local, state or regional level.

We therefore feel one of the primary purposes of this Assembly should be to give voice to our region's particular needs and strengths as they should apply to the formulation of a national policy. Furthermore, it is our hope that subsequent to this report, other regions will also contribute a dialogue that will become the basis for developing a flexible, comprehensive national policy that will nurture and consolidate current and future resources.

The Assembly believes that a national policy on the performing arts is possible and desirable provided there is recognition of important and diverse regional strengths and needs. This policy should acknowledge the value of the performing arts as an important national resource and that government should make a continuing commitment to adequate financial support of the arts. Such a policy should be developed with full participation at the state and regional levels.

It is hoped that the creation of this report will serve as an important preliminary step toward continued grass roots participation in the development of a national policy on the arts.

5. We believe quality of performance for, and continued development of interest and involvement among, young people in the performing arts are very important as ends in themselves.

6. We believe the role of colleges and universities in the performing arts is varied, important and multi-faceted. In the Midwest, colleges and universities are an integral part of the professional cultural opportunities of the region, and sometimes are principal producers of quality arts performances and experiences. Because of this, integration and cooperation of college, university and professional performance activities in our region are essential. We favor the inclusion of colleges, universities and conservatories as among the legitimate recipients of funding from federal agencies and state art agencies.

7. We believe that all the arts should be included in and integrated with the core curriculum in all elementary and secondary schools.

8. We believe the underlying justification of subsidy for performing artists and their organizations is found in their commitment to craft and serious repertoire. Other important reasons favoring these subsidies include economic benefits derived by a community, increased accessibility of and participation in the performing arts, and opportunities to encourage creation of new works. It is clear that the quality and quantity of performing arts in this country and the opportunity for audiences to enjoy them would have been destroyed over the past twenty years but for the work of the recipients of these subsidies, the non-profit performing organizations. Career opportunities for artists in these fields would have suffered proportionately.

9. We believe it is important that the relationship between trustees of non-profit performing arts organizations and their artistic and administrative managers should be clearly articulated and that a relationship of mutual understanding and trust be established.

to the end that trustees be involved in broad policy matters rather than detailed artistic decisions.

10. We believe spiralling costs, the need to hold ticket prices within reasonably affordable bounds, and the inevitable gap between earned income and expenses, pose a major threat to the existence of many performing arts organizations. Increased exploration of effective marketing and management techniques will help narrow this gap, but the need for subsidy will remain.
11. We believe the Congress and the state legislatures should provide further tax incentives to encourage private, foundation, and corporate support of the arts.
12. We believe that national corporations doing business in a region should recognize a responsibility to support performing arts groups in the region.
